The new home of Mark Kermode and Simon Mayo. They're back, and it's bigger, and better and larger-er and more-er. Film reviews, TV reviews, and all your conversation around movie and non-movie related stuff. Plus a whole bunch of recommendations to watch in cinemas, on all streaming services and on physical media. As well as the film and TV reviews, Mark and Simon will be talking about anything and everything. Punctuation, Thunderbirds, obscure German pop music, fax machines, subtitles, MRI scans, magic, school assemblies, Scandinavia, and don't forget the dad jokes. There's more to ... 5 out of 5 stars By Ken P. Norton on 08-04-22 Similar Items Holdings Description Reviews Staff View History tells us that Hitler died on 30th April 1945 by committing suicide with a single gunshot to the head. But what if history is wrong? Based on interviews with eye witnesses and years of dedicated research, this film dramatization explores the possibility that Hitler didn't die in Germany at the end of the war, but instead escaped from Berlin by air and made his way to Argentina. This is the gripping story of what might have happened; the CIA's possible involvement, his life in Patagonia, the escape routes and the astonishing fact that Hitler may have had two daughters. They include Fort Eben Emael: The Key to Hitler's Victory in the West (Osprey) and Centurion Universal Tank 1943-2003 (Osprey). He has also written and directed numerous documentaries for the History Channel. Gerrard Williams has been a renowned television journalist for over 30 years, working for the BBC, Sky News, and Reuters. During that time he has covered some of the most significant political events of the late twentieth century, including the wars in the Persian Gulf, Rwanda, and Bosnia, as well as the 2004 tsunami in the Indian Ocean. Gerrard Williams has been an International Television Journalist and film-maker for over 30 years. After graduating from Journalism College he was hired by Visnews, the international TV News Agency, where he spent two years before moving to Australia, working for ABC and Australian Associated Press as well as being Independent Radio News correspondent for two years. On his return to the U.K. he rejoined Visnews and after various jobs elsewhere in TV news was eventually appointed Duty Editor at Reuters Television. He has worked as a Foreign Duty Editor at The BBC, Sky News and APTN. Gerrard has worked and reported in over 65 countries and has set up and managed/edited projects as diverse as Superchannel News, European Business Today for BSB/SKY, Breakfast Editor at European Business News, and Managing Editor at Africa Journal. He directed his first documentary in 1983. He has been responsible for hundreds of live hours of broadcast television. He has covered most of the top international news stories of the last 20 years, including the fall of the Soviet Union, the war in Yugoslavia, the Rwanda Genocide, the first Gulf War, the aftermath of the second and the US occupation of Iraq, and the 2004 Tsunami. Gerrard returned to long-form film making after successfully running an independent news production company, News-Source U.K. that produced news, entertainment and documentary programming for Sony Entertainment Television and the breakfast program for European Business News (now CNBC Europe). He has also produced corporate videos for various United Nations departments, Hilton Hotels, Berjaya Bay Hotels, Seychelles Airlines, Weaving Capital and has advised on the use of video inserts into many web-based products. He has recently made documentary films in Kenya, Argentina and Albania, which have been broadcast by Al-Jazeera International, SIC in Portugal, Channel 4 News in the UK and SKY News. He is currently post-producing a major Drama-Documentary "Grey Wolf" and is developing various feature film proposals. Gerrard is married with two grown-up children, a Labrador called Max and an ancient cat "Suki". Adolf Hitler the biggest criminal in history escaped from the ruins of Berlin and fled with his pregnant girlfriend Eva Braun to a life in the depths of Patagonia, Argentina where he died in 1962. Worth watching one for sure Beautiful movie worth your precious time for sure. Thought provoking movie, portrays nicely the other side of the coin. What could have been happened if he had really escaped, soul touching movie. The old age is hell on earth irrespective of your nationality and the power you possess. After reading several books and seeing multiple documentaries I personally think that he really escaped to Argentina. You need to understand one thing that if 1,2,3,4 or even 5 people are saying something it can be a lie. But if more than 5 people are saying the same thing so concretely and also the fact that this all people are of different age and gender and social groups. They are not connected in any possible manner with each other. It can be really true and the movie portrays the same elegantly. Even the furor could not avoid the old age horrors and betrayals. All this will remain a true mystery forever.
